- WHO: Physiotherapists, Occupational and Speech therapists, community health workers and community members.
- WHY: Many children with disabilities fall through the cracks during the referral process in South Africa. Stakeholders need to work together to ensure that families with disabilities are supported in every aspect of their lives.
- WHAT: Participation in this program will enable participants to identify local referral pathways within their community. They will be able to understand their role in supporting these referral networks so that families of children with disabilities won't fall through the cracks when seeking support.
