Our standing positioner is an exciting new design direction for us. We've brought our standing position offering up-to-date, with a range of usability improvements in a compact robust device without compromising on the many therapeutic benefits the original JackStander was known for. Positioning is made more user friendly through a lowered loading height, centralised adjustment mechanisms, and ergonomic handles with integrated tilting lever.

The new design also promotes play and sensory stimulation, as well as outdoor interaction. Suitable to children ages 1 – 7. A standing frame forms an important part of a 24-hour therapeutic posture management programme.
